The notice says: "We do not know yet just what the Adamson law means. Grand Chief Warren S. Stone and the other signatories were largely responsible for the passage by Congress of the eight hour measure last September. Proof that the railroad unions have received a political "gold brick" is shown by the underscored words in the paragraph in parentheses.

· Every man knows about the rise in woolens and the difficulty of getting them even at famine prices. Obviously it affects everybody alike. We are no exception to the rule. The point is, we bought these fabrics almost a year ago and held them in reserve to escape the subsequent big price advances. There was no sleight-of-hand about t-it was simply foresight, courage, and an inspiration of the moment, that to maintain our old standards of value in a season when it is a hardship to live up to them would be in line

Simply, Substantially, Specifically, these are far better suits than you can buy anywhere else at the same money.

• We have put more into them. We had the fabrics on ice and were not handicapped by high prices. And just as any human being spreads himself for a special event, we have spread ourselves this season, putting into these wonderful clothes all that excess snap and enthusiasm which the occasion inspires. They are modeled on the lines of the last-minute styles. They are filled with the creative ideas of a New York tailoring organization.

They are up-to-the-minute in cut and down-to-cases in price.

HUGHES'S 8 HR. LAW WARNING RECALLED

Republican National Committee Comments on Chief Stone's Admission.

Nomince Said Hasty Legislation Would Bring "Unwelcome Surprises."

Commenting on the official admission of Warren S. Stone, Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, one of the four men chiefly responsible for the enactment of the so-called Adamson eight hour law, that he does not know "just what the Adamson bill means," the Republican National Committee in a statement last night said in a speech at Newark, N. J.
